Conversion: A Journey.

It's dark and gloomy! Christmas seems a very distant memory, the rain is incessant, the days don't seem to get any longer, the glimmer of sunlight and the balmy evenings when we lounged around on outdoor furniture seem a distant memory. It's January.

Good news then that, at this dark time of the year, the Church throws in our direction a whole load of feasts that bring light into our midst. Epiphany. Candlemas. And on January 25th, the Feast of the Conversion of St Paul. Because of a blinding light from heaven, Saul the persecutor of the Christians becomes Paul, the great apostle to the gentiles and the most significant Christian theologian of all time.

The word 'conversion' suggests a profound turning around, a complete change and purpose. When you convert a loft, it may inhabit the same physical space but it is unrecognisable. When you convert currency, you still have cash but its use is wholly changed. And it was the same with Paul. After that dazzling moment of conversion, he may still have inhabited the same physical body. But everything else about him – the purpose of his life, the places he went, the decisions he made, the things he lived for, the relationships that supported him, even his name – was different. For now he was alive for Christ and Christ alone.

Paul's conversion was instant. One minute he was persecuting Christians, the next he was one. In fact it was so sudden that it took quite some time before his fellow Christians learnt to trust him. For most of us, conversion is not quite that spectacular.

When I look back on my own Christian life, I can't identify a single moment of conversion. I can however recount a whole host of occasions in which Jesus has been at work in my life or when I have experienced his presence ever more intimately.

Perhaps that is so for you. Conversion has been a slow process, perhaps one that lasts a lifetime.

But that should not in any way undermine the radical and far-reaching impact that Jesus has on our lives. We all need conversion. However long it takes, we all need to be changed thoroughly by Jesus Christ. It can be tempting in the modern age to think of our Christian faith as a bolt-on to basically secular lives. Or to use a mobile phone metaphor, we can think of faith as an app that we choose to download onto our phone rather than the operating system that impacts everything.

But as St Paul shows, there is no aspect of our lives that is not touched and changed by Jesus. He converts our hearts as we try to live more and more for him. He converts our minds as we learn more and more about the wonder of his saving work. He converts our relationships as we seek to live out our faith in every aspect of our lives. He converts our decisions as we hear his call and go where he sends us. He converts our wallets as we learn habits of generosity and sacrificial self-offering. Nothing is left untouched by his dazzling and glorious light.

I remember once visiting a monastery in southern Italy. They gave me a wonderful ikon of Mary, Joseph and Jesus which had written (in Italian but I have translated it) the motto of the community. 'Holy Family of Nazareth, protect our way of conversion.' Conversion is a journey. It takes the whole of our lives. But as we offer ourselves more and more to Jesus, so like Paul, like Mary, like Joseph, we will discover to the full the joy of what it means to find life in Christ, our light and our salvation.

The Cathedral Organ's 50th Birthday!

Please join us on Sunday 2nd February to celebrate the 50th birthday of our legendary Blackburn Cathedral Organ! There will be birthday cake after the 10.30am Eucharist, and a celebratory talk about the organ by Dr. John Bertalot at 2pm. This will be followed by a short demonstration of the organ by our current Organist and Director of Music, John Robinson.

Dr. Bertalot will tell the fascinating story of the commissioning of the organ and how 'it nearly didn't happen!' John was responsible for the design of the organ as well as raising the money for its building, and as Organist Emeritus is still a highly active and notable member of the Cathedral community.

Blackburn Cathedral's organ, built by renowned English Organ Builders, J W Walker & Sons Ltd is one of the most iconic 'modern' Cathedral organs in the world, and is rightly famous because of its extraordinary power, and distinctive sound. You can hear the organ most Wednesdays at our lunchtime recitals, and this year at 1.00pm every Wednesday during term time we have a series of special events featuring returning Blackburn Cathedral Organists: February 5th James Thomas, 12th David Goodenough, March 4th Richard Tanner, March 18th John Robinson, April 1st Gordon Stewart. Tom Bell will also perform a celebratory recital on Wednesday February 19th at 1pm.

Please join us for this exciting celebration of a truly great Blackburn treasure!
